

Privacy Notice

Thank you for registering for the ‘Creative Evolutions’ online event on Friday 22 May 2020. This event is being jointly run by the Age of Creativity, Culture, Health & Wellbeing Alliance, Get Creative and London Arts in Health Forum and will be hosted on Zoom by Voluntary Arts (collectively, ‘the Partners’).

Registration details

Registration for the event has been done through Eventbrite and is managed by the Culture, Health & Wellbeing Alliance. The data gathered through these registrations will be shared between the Partners but will not be shared to any other third parties without permission. The data you submit is stored indefinitely in Eventbrite. You can read about Eventbrite’s management of your data here.

Recording

The Zoom discussion will be recorded by the Partners for their records and may be published for public viewing in whole or in part after the event. Participants have the option to hide their video in Zoom if they don’t want to be visible in any recording. Any contributions made during the discussion will be recorded and included. Participants in the meeting will be reminded of the recording and given instructions on how to hide their video during the introduction.

Further contact

The Partners may use the details provided to contact you directly about subsequent relevant events or follow-up work from this event, including evaluation purposes, but you will not be added to any long-term mailing lists. If you wish to be kept updated about the work of any of the Partners, please sign up to their mailing lists by following the website links above to each organisation.

Questions

If you have any questions about the use of your data or any of the above, please contact info@culturehealthandwellbeing.org.uk